

CORAL's enclosed booths can be used with either the CORAL Zincovelo water style spray booths or the CORAL Eurodry dry spray booths. These units are fabricated with modular panels and come complete with folding doors and inspection windows.

Their heavy duty "sandwich" style construction ensures low noise and the best insulation qualities.

Non-pressurized booths come with a filtering wall at one end, while pressurized booths come with an air makeup system and diffusing plenum/ceiling.

Temperature control is available, as well as water sprinklers or chemical extinguishing systems.

Pressurized and non-pressurized booths are available in a wide range of sizes and are configured according to the customer's specifications. Please call or fax us with your requirements in order to quote the appropriate system.
